KALEIDOSCOPE
a summer arts program

A kaleidoscope treats the viewer to a shimmering, shifting view of the world. The Kaleidoscope Summer Arts Program treats children ages 6-9 to a similarly enchanting experience.

Participants learn basic music theory as they prepare songs for presentation. They do extensive drawing, painting and sculpture work. Dance elements and creative drama are introduced through the study of movement, character and performance practice.

Children are guided through this three-week intensive arts program by professional artists/educators: Donna Peckett, an award-winning choreographer and arts educator; Sue Moberly, art teacher, professional artist and co-author of the Madison Metropolitan School District's elementary visual art standards; and Leanne Wesselhoft, music teacher at Lake View Elementary and a member of the Music Currculum Guide Team of the Madison Metropolitan School District.

The program culminates with an art exhibit and final sharing for family and friends, showcasing the children's work.

This is not a school sponsored activity and the Madison Metropolitan School District does not approve, support, supervise or endorse this program/activity.

Esta no es una actividad patrocinada por la escuela y el Distrito Escolar Metropolitano de Madison no aprueba, respalda, o supervisa este programa o actividad.

HISTORY
growing and changing

The Kaleidoscope Program was developed in 1991 by Barbara Goy, accomplished music educator and founder of Madison's Preschool of the Arts. Designed to foster creative development in children, Kaleidoscope was sponsored by the University of Wisconsin Extension for 13 years. Barbara retired in 2002. Today Kaleidoscope is administered by TAPIT/new works, a Madison-based non-profit professional arts organization, founded in 1985 by Donna Peckett and Danielle Dresden.

Sparking and supporting children's creativity remains the enduring goal of the Kaleidoscope program.
